THOUSANDS HAVE BEEN RESCUED BUT HEAVY TOLL TAKEN

FLOOD WATERS MISSISSIPPI TEARING THROUGH DELTA REGION MONDAY

By Associated Press.

Memphis, Tenn., April 25.—The dark record of Mississippi valley desolation was continued today as flood waters extended to new town and farming communities.

The death list, known to embrace at least 100, mounted as news trickled in from stricken districts. Official estimates placed the probable death toll in the Mississippi delta area at 200. The fate of many others in the far flung sectors was doubtful.

Thousands had been rescued from perilous situations while other thousands were reported still marooned. Throughout the flooded valley fleets of boats were taking refugees from levee tops, trees and house tops, knolls, Indian mounds, and upper stories of dwellings.

Steamer Rescues Five Hundred.

Five hundred persons were taken from a levee top at Wayside last night by the steamer Wabash which stripped away its guard rails in a dangerous ascent of a drainage canal to reach the marooned people. Told that it would be impossible to negotiate the canal, Captain Henry Meyer nevertheless ordered the vessel into the channel while screams from the levee a mile away rent the air.

The government boat Tallahum rescued 8 persons, including 2 small children who were clinging to willow tops after their gasoline launch burned in the flood waters.

With more than 100,000 persons already homeless and refugee camps swelling almost hourly in population, grave fears were felt by officials for inhabitants of the delta country between Greenville and Vicksburg. Despite warnings to evacuate their homes before the flood waters from the St. Louis Landing crevasse arrived, reports to the National Guard at Greenville last night indicated that a few had left.

Arkansas City Stricken.—Urgent appeals from Arkansas City, Ark., related that the flood had swept into the town to a depth of five feet and the 500 persons, in addition to many refugees from the surrounding lowlands, were homeless.

Winchester in Desha county, Arkansas, was under water from the Arkansas, while near Texarkana, LaFayette county sections were covered with waters from the bread in the Red river levee at Finley Bend.

Men and materials have been rushed to two places on the main Mississippi levee at Friars Point where a slouch occurred yesterday and Brunswick's Circle, ten miles north of Vicksburg where the levee appeared to be weakening.

Thousands of acres in Northern Louisiana were going under water from swollen tributaries of the Mississippi. Refugees poured into Natchez.

Water Tearing Into Delta

A mighty volume of water tore into the lower western section of the Louisiana delta from the break at Junior Plantation near Lumberton. It was estimated that 24 square miles would be inundated. Weather forecasters did not believe the break would lessen the flood menace to New Orleans.

Meanwhile relief workers reiterated appeals for boats and men.

Fifteen thousand persons were reported marooned at various places and in urgent need of food, clothing and medical attention.

Flooded Greenville, under voluntary military control, will not be evacuated, since about 4,000 of the townsmen have declared their intention of remaining in the city with some 6,000 negro refugees camped on the Mississippi levee.

Additional refugees were arriving there as boats sought out isolated groups in the countryside.

Food and medicines, together with vaccines for the prevention of possible epidemics, have been received. Four thousand persons were vaccinated with anti-typhoid serum yesterday.

Fifteen negro women were drowned at Winterville, Miss., when the house in which they were marooned was swept away. These drownings increased the known death list in that area to 21.

Motor Boats and Skiff Received

Motor boats and skiff, brought by train from Gulfport, Miss., reached the Leland sector where varying estimates had been at 4,000 and 5,000 persons. Other boats ploughed their way to Ayola and Hollandale which have gone under water. Isolating many hundreds of people on embankments and upper floors. Advises to authorities at Greenville said no lives had been lost at Leland.

Additional air craft has been placed in service with food, medicines, making rescues and scouting for isolated groups. River steamers by the main channel bearing down to isolated cities or refugees to concentration camps.

Disease continued its spread

NOT VERY INVITING

AN IMMEDIATE NEED

While the people of Corsicana are responding generously with money for the Mississippi Valley sufferers, there is a pressing need for warm clothing that demands immediate relief.

One does not have to have a very keen imagination to picture the conditions where such a large number of persons are involved. Not only the usual percentage of aged and infirm, new born babies and expectant mothers, but the ravages of disease augmented by the exposed condition of the sufferers calls for prompt action on the part of our citizens.

The Red Cross has no active organization here to handle this matter, but Mrs. J. D. Jackson, 1010 West Third avenue, has kindly consented to act as chairman of a committee to collect and send on contribution of clothing to the proper authorities.

Anyone having anything to contribute please call Mrs. J. D. Jackson, telephone 141, and she will send for the package and see that it is promptly forwarded.

All money donations should be sent to the Daily Sun office.

H. J. ELLIS,
Chairman Navarro Red Cross.

RESPONSE IS MADE TO APPEAL FOR AID FOR FLOOD VICTIMS

The appeal for funds by the American Red Cross for aid in relieving the immediate sufferings of the victims of the flooded Mississippi river and its tributaries is being responded to locally in a very fine way. As was reported Saturday $120 was received, Monday up until 1 o'clock p. m. there had been received an additional sum of $117, making a total received and counted up to 1 o'clock Monday of $237.

The need, it was stressed by Red Cross and other officials Monday, is still most urgent, as the increasing spread of the flood waters in daily rendering homeless thousands of people. The number of homeless is now well past the 100,000 mark and mounting constantly, thousands of additional citizens having been driven from their homes Monday, according to Associated Press reports, which will be found in today's news columns of the Sun.

It will be noted that Cash contributions are to be left at the Daily Sun office, at the request of the Rev. H. J. Ellis, local Red Cross chairman, while Mrs. J. D. Jackson has consented to take care of the contributions of clothing for the flood sufferers.

The break, which is a deep crevasse, is causing a large volume of water to sweep down through the county into Mississippi, Illinois, and other towns.

OPENING STATEMENT OF PROSECUTION IS DELIVERED MONDAY

By Associated Press.

New York, April 25.—Albert Snyder, Queens village art dealer, was "slated for death" on March 7th last, District Attorney Newcomb told the jury in his opening statement today.

"Mrs. Snyder and her lover, Henry Judd Gray, met in Manhattan that day," he said, "after Gray had bought a sash weight and chloroform in Kingston, N. Y."

"That day the death of Albert Snyder was decided on and the implements of murder were procured. Prior to that two insurance policies for $50,000 had been taken out on the life of Albert Snyder, with a double indemnity clause for death by violence."

"Albert Snyder never knew about the policies, gentlemen, but Mrs.

Snyder knew of them, for she had taken them out, and Judd Gray knew of them, for he hoped to benefit through his mistress."

Plot is Outlined.

"Gray then went away but he returned on the night of the murder and hid in a darkened room while Snyder was put to bed by his wife."

"When the poor devil was asleep, Mrs. Snyder sneaked out of bed and told her sulking lover, 'now is the time!'"

"They kissed and then they went to Albert Snyder's room. They stunned him with the sash weight, they stuck chloroformed cotton up his nose, they strangled him with picture wire."

"Then, gentlemen, the job is done. Gray wore suede gloves and after the murder he takes these off and goes into the bath room."

"Where he sees blood on his shirt. They burn the shirt and her bloody gown. She lends him a blue shirt belonging to her husband."

"Then they decide to make it look like a burglary and they upset everything in the house."

"They sat then in the house from

3 in the morning to six, plotting what God knows."

"Before leaving Gray binds and gags Mrs. Snyder to help out the burglary story. Then he takes the train for Syracuse."

Only when he got to Syracuse, Newcomb said, did he discover a large spot of blood on his vest.

While the District Attorney shouted to the jury in a voice trembling with emotion, Mrs. Snyder and Gray sat close behind him, without any show of emotion stronger than a mild interest.

Brother Dead Man Witness.

Warren Schneider, brother of the art editor, was called as the first witness.

His appearance on the stand came after defense counsel had waived rights to opening statements at the time.

Schneider, who has retained the original spelling of the family name, established the fact of his brother's death, a necessary legal preliminary to the trial. He said he had identified the body in the presence of a county medical examiner.

Dr. H. W. Neill, medical examiner, also established the corpus delicti.

HELP THE FLOOD SUFFERERS

Many have been killed, thousands are without food or shelter and property damage amounting to millions of dollars has been caused by the raging flood waters in the United States.

A national appeal for funds has been issued by the American Red Cross and President Coolidge has issued a proclamation calling attention to the distress of the people in the flood ravished district
calling on the more fortunate of the United States, through the Red Cross, to come to their aid with money and other necessities of life.

No drive for funds is being made.
It is left entirely up to the citizenship to do its duty. In Corsicana
the appeal for funds has been issued by the Rev. H. J. Ellis and the response has been most liberal.
The Rev. Mr. Ellis has requested
the Daily Sun to handle the money
and all those desiring to aid this cause are requested to mail or bring their checks to the Sun Office.
The American Express Company
has announced it will handle all clothing and food shipments to the flood districts free of charge when addressed to some recognized relief agency.

Five million dollars is needed
for this cause and Corsicana and Navarro county has its part to play
in raising this five million. Money is needed and needed at once. As Mr. J. L. Halbert remarked as he handed in his check—"There is no need of discussing this matter to find the urgent need of funds. We are deeply sympathetic with these people who have lost their homes
and all their earthly possessions
and who are in need of food, clothing and medical attention. *****
But sympathy alone will not bring relief. We of the more favored section of these great United States must contribute of our means and must do so at once."

In other words sympathetic expressions are not going to feed the hungry, clothe the naked or give medical attention to those who have been in the path of the flood waters. Money is needed and needed at once. "Money talks"—
let us of Corsicana and Navarro
county use our money to express our sympathy.

Do not delay—send in your donations to the Daily Sun or to the local chapter of the American Red Cross. It will be wired in daily to headquarters and put to work at once.

DR. GEO. W. TRUETT

The citizens of Corsicana and Navarro county are very fortunate
in having Dr. George W. Truett
in our midst conducting a revival meeting. The congregation of the First Baptist church is to be congratulated on making it possible
for so many people to hear this great preacher. Many have heard Dr. Truett but many more should take advantage of the opportunity presented and hear this wonderful minister of the gospel. Regardless of your church affiliation Dr. Truett
has a message for you. He is a preacher of national reputation and his services are in great demand.

Dr. Truett will be here all this week and will fill the pulpit at the First Baptist church at both the morning and evening hours. A move was started Monday morning
to have all business houses close for the morning service throughout Friday. This move, as it should,
met with general approval and an additional number of Corsicana people will be able to hear this great preacher.

It makes no difference whether you are a church member or a regular attendant you will enjoy Dr.
Truett's sermons and you will be well repaid for any inconvenience

you might have suffered in attending the services.
Again we say Corsicana people
should feel very fortunate in having Dr. Truett in our midst.

KNOW TEXAS

Texas has the widest diversity
of soil and climatic conditions of any state in the country.

Rainfall in Texas ranges from fifty inches annually in the southeast to ten inches in the extreme western part of the state.

Temperature in Texas ranges
from sub-tropical in the lower Rio Grande Valley to middle temperature in the Panhandle.

A part of Texas as large as an average state lies below 200 feet above sea level and another section
as large is about 3,000 feet above.
Oranges, hard wheat, rice, cotton and corn grow equally well in Texas.

Texas produces 19 per cent of all the natural gas gasoline output
in the United States—about 190
million gallons a year.

The production of natural gas in Texas amounts to about 130 billion cubic feet a year and is increasing rapidly.

Every major division of Texas
is now either producing petroleum
and natural gas or is potential in such industry.

ON GETTING ALONG

Every community has its members who can not get along with their fellow citizens. Many offices, stores and factories have persons
on the staff who are incompatible with their fellow workers. Every man and woman knows somebody
he or she "can't bear."

No two persons are alike, and
every nation and race has its traits peculiar to itself. Sometimes the point of disagreement is opinion,
such as religious, race or national prejudices. Between individuals attitudes, habits, personality and tastes may be the cause for dislike. Sometimes people disgust
others and often they even anger their fellows. Women are said to be more prone to take personal
dislikes to others than are men,
but among men there is often heard the remark, "if it wasn't for
the law."

But this is a large world and one person has no more right to it than another. Since it is no longer feasible to lead the life of a recluse
or hermit or to retire to the recesses of a monk's monastic cell,
people must learn to conquer their dislikes and aversions. It isn't easy and it isn't pleasant, but it is frequently necessary. Workmen
have been successful in abolishing
many undesirable working conditions, but they have never evolved
a sure method of ridding themselves of undesirable working companions.

People make life easier and sweeter for themselves by seeing the one good trait in the person who has a dozen bad traits.

Those of us in Corsicana and Navarro county who are prone to magnify our alleged misfortunes
and imaginative hard times should change our wall of woe to a joyous
song of thanksgiving as we read
of the death, desolation, destruction and suffering left in the wake of the raging flood waters of the Mississippi and other swollen
streams and the giant twisting winds. This section of the state is indeed fortunate and the people residing therein have everything to be thankful for.

It is getting so we wouldn't be
at all surprised if some base ball
star wrote his employer one of these days, "My charges for haggling about a salary are $500 a day."

Improvements in Pullman car
designs are announced, but nothing
has been done for the long-legged denizen of the smoking room who piles his feet up on the wash stand.

A French architect has built a house on a turntable so that it may always face the sun. Some over here still get the turntable effect
with Scotch, and sunburn, too.

It is about time we engraved another disarmament invitation to France, the old one having been sent back and forth so much it is wearing out at the folds.

As a general rule a shoe only begins to be comfortable about the time it ceases to look anything
like the one in the advertising.

A college youth who is reported to know 12 languages ought to be well equipped for changing tires.

Those who have the interest of the community in which they live
at heart will vote for good roads.

AUTO STOLEN HERE FRIDAY NIGHT FOUND IN DITCH SATURDAY

The Willys-Knight coupe sedan belonging to Lowry Martin was stolen Friday night from in front of the Palace Theatre between the hours of 8 and 10 o'clock. The city officers were notified and made a search within the city but failed to locate it. Shortly before noon on W. C. Stroube was passing around the curve north of the Country Club property he discovered the car in a ditch alongside the road there and reported the matter, he having learned previously that the car was missing.
A local garage was notified and
the car hauled in and it was stated that while it was muddy it was apparently in good condition. It is thought the thieves were going

at a high rate of speed and in rounding the sharp curve the rear of the car swung into a ditch and was mired down. Pieces of a laprobe that did not belong in the Martin car were found tied about a rear wheel and indications were
that strong efforts had been made
to get out of the ditch.
A negro passing the place stated that he saw two men working with the car, and reports were also made Saturday that two men
apparently attempted to take several cars on North Beaton street
but failed and were gone when police learned of their actions and arrived on the scene.

LAST OF BLOCK PAVING NOW BEING TAKEN FROM STREET

BOIS D'ARC BLOCK PAVEMENT PLACED IN BUSINESS
SECTION 45 YEARS AGO

Workmen were busy removing the last of the paving blocks, on East Collin street between Beaton and Commerce streets, Monday morning, preparatory to the paving of that block.

With the removal of these blocks the last of the original paving in Corsicana will be gone. The block pavement was laid down in 1882, forty-five years ago, and the blocks are still in excellent state of preservation, the time and trouble of the years not injuring them to any extent.

The pavement was constructed of six-inch concrete base with a cushion of sand just below the blocks. The blocks were laid and then a compound of tar was poured on and between the blocks. It was necessary to put the compound on a compound on the blocks occasionally. The pavement was rough to ride over in automobiles.

At one time Beaton street from Seventh avenue to Third avenue, and East and West on Collin street one block were paved with these blocks. In 1882 when these six blocks of pavement were completed, Corsicana was considered a well paved town, while at the present time there are in the neighborhood of twenty miles of paved streets here.

FAR EAST EXPORTS OF UNITED STATES SHOWS INCREASE

Houston, Texas, April 25.—Exports from the United States to the Far East during February of this year amounted to $9,825,000 which was an increase of $14,043,000 or 55.5 per cent over the total of $5,382,000 exported in the same month of 1926, according to information just received by Ernest L. Tutt, from the Department of Commerce. The increase, Mr. Tutt said, ranged from 28 per cent in China to 117 per cent for India. On the basis of actual exports increase, however, Tutt says Australia ranked first with India second and Japan third.

"It will be remembered," he said in a statement issued here, "that exports to China in 1926 were greater than for the previous year and 1927 is starting out with China buying more American goods than in 1926, all which is exceedingly interesting in view of the military difficulties that are now occurring in that populous country."

Tutt says the report also shows that despite the military disturbance in China, the opening of the new rivers and canals for traffic a few months ago, as well as the necessity for renewing a greatly depleted stock in Northern China, particularly stimulated trade with the United States. As a result, the country sold China about 50 per cent more machinery, Douglas in and dyes during February than the previous month, 35 per cent more kerosene, 5 per cent more lead, 4 per cent more iron and steel, besides increased quantities of canned fruits, raw cotton and wool oil, but less flour, paper, lubricating oil and lower cigarettes. As a result exports from the United States to the whole of China, including $1,088,000 from Hongkong, and $441,000 from Kwangtung, totaled $10,882,000 or slightly more than the January total of $10,844,000.

STONE MOUNTAIN MEMORIAL WILL BE WONDER OF WORLD

Special to the Sun.
Dallas, Texas, April 23.—Colonel Randolph, President of the Stone Mountain Memorial Association, makes the following statement regarding Stone Mountain, which is very interesting: "The Monument will be the eighth wonder of the world. The mountain itself is one of nature's greatest wonders. It rises abruptly from the plains. It is one of the oldest rocks of the earth. It gained its present position and appearance millions of years before the Rock Mountains were formed. It is older than the Andes, Alps or the mountain rocks of India. Stone Mountain is not surface origin, it came up from the center of the earth at a time when the Atlantic seaboard was miles higher than it is now. The mountain is seven miles in circumference and about 1000 feet high. The granite of which it is formed underlies practically all of the Atlantic seaboard, as far north as Virginia and south beyond Florida and into the Gulf of Mexico. It has been called one of the ribs of the earth. The mountain above the plain contains 628,000,000 tons of granite, or enough if hauled away in cars of fifty tons each, to require 101-2 million cars, or a train which would reach 21-2 times around the earth. Upon the north side of the mountain are being carved the largest sculptured figures in all history of mankind. The effect is an army of infantry, cavalry and artillery marching in review before their high commanding officers. Underneath the marching columns is a great hall or grove, cut deep into the mountain with great columns across its front. The hall will be inlaid in gold leaf. The figures in the reviewing group are in heroic proportion. They are on horseback and from the hoof of the horse to the top of the flag staff carried by the color bearers is a distance of 180 feet. The monument is, therefore, taller than any building in Dallas, if not in the whole country. From the nose of one of the horses to the tip of its tail is a distance of about 250 feet, or as long as an average city block. A man 6 feet tall with his arms extended upward, standing on General Lee's mustache could not reach his eyebrows. The marching soldiers will be about 60 feet in height, as tall as an ordinary five-story building. While the carved figures will be of these great proportions, viewed from the ground the whole work will not appear as of giant size, but will look like the figures of normal men and horses. The work is now progressing rapidly and by the end of the year the first section of the reviewing group will be practically completed. The whole undertaking will require five or six years to finish.

Over the architecture to the entrance of Memorial Hall will be cut the story of what it is all about, in five languages, so that the people of the distant ages may know who executed the work and for what reason."

In Memorial Hall will be kept the Gold Star Book of Memory, containing the names of the living confederate veterans enrolled. Let us see to it that every veteran in our county is enrolled in the Book of Memory. The fee for enrolling is $5.00. Any one may enroll a veteran, the name of the subscriber and the veteran, together with his war record, will be recorded in the Book of Memory.

LEGISLATURE WILL BE HELD TO MAJOR IDEAS SAYS MOODY

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, April 25.—Governor Moody will limit the Legislature to the major essential problems in its special session called to start May 9, he said today in his first official conference with newspaper men.

"I shall not open the flood gates to submission of measures but will hold the legislature to big general necessary legislation," he said. "These problems include civil service reform, highway reform, prison reform, judiciary reform and appropriations."

Moody's statement forecasts that the legislature may not be in session longer than thirty days.

SUBSCRIPTIONS TO FLOOD RELIEF FUND OPENED SATURDAY

"President Coolidge has issued a proclamation calling upon people to give quickly and generously to Red Cross Mississippi flood relief fund. Emergency situation extremely grave with 75,000 homeless needing emergency care. Relief problem acute as number of flood refugees increases every hour. Imperative large relief fund be raised immediately to meet mounting need. Every Red Cross chapter must do its part in this national appeal. Wire me probable amount we can expect from your territory."

WILLIAM M. BAXTER, JR.
The above appeal was received in a telegram to the Rev. H. J. Ellis, pastor of St. John's Episcopal church, chairman of the Navarro county chapter of the American Red Cross, was received in Corsicana Saturday morning and speaks for itself. There is little necessity to add that the appeal is well founded and convincing. No one who has read the newspapers for the past several days will gainsay the fact that the greatest flood of all time is now sweeping down the great Mississippi Valley, dealing death to the people and destruction to their property.

The Red Cross knows. It investigates all conditions thoroughly before a generous appeal for aid is made. An appeal for funds from Texas chapters was made by the Southwestern headquarters office of the American Red Cross at St. Louis recently, following the disastrous tornado that wiped the town of Rock Springs, Texas, off the map and killed and injured many. The local response to that call was fairly good, the sum of $317 having been sent by the Rev. Mr. Ellis Saturday morning, and this fund closed, locally, Robert Stell, Sr., with a contribution of $5 was the final contributor to this fund. The appeal for aid locally for the Rock Springs sufferers, therefore, is closed and the greater need for aiding the thousands of flood sufferers is taken up.

Having read of the appeal made late Friday by the American Red Cross, one of the first contributors to the flood sufferers fund Saturday morning was Hon. J. L. Halbert, who came into the Sun office, which has been made the receiving point for funds by the local chairman, and left a check for the sum of $50 for Mrs. Halbert and himself. In speaking of the matter, Mr. Halbert said:

Need Is Urgent.
"There is no need of discussing this matter to find the urgent need of funds. We all deeply sympathize with these people who have lost their homes and all their earthly possessions and have been driven into strange places by the flood waters of the mighty Mississippi and its tributaries, and who are now in need of food, clothing and medical attention in many instances for epidemics which invariably follow such disasters, have already been reported. But sympathy alone will not bring relief. We of the more favored sections of these great United States must contribute of our means and must do so at once.

"The need is urgent; the cause is the greatest that comes to mankind—that of aiding his fellow-man in deep distress. I am sure that Corsicana will respond, as has always been the case, to this call for aid for a suffering and stricken humanity. Corsicana is blessed, perhaps, above the great majority of cities and her citizenship is among the biggest-hearted and most liberal to be found anywhere and there will without doubt be a prompt and substantial response to this appeal locally."

Shortly afterward Major C. H. Mills, who had been among the first to contribute to the Rock Springs sufferers, handed the Rev. Mr. Ellis his check for $50 for the flood relief fund, and voiced substantially the same sentiments as expressed by Mr. Halbert, stressing the fact that we were a peculiarly blessed people and that the need of the flood victims was genuine and urgent.

FIRE FOLLOWED BLAST IN PAINTING PLANT EARLY TODAY

By The Associated Press.
Detroit, April 23.—The number of dead if any actually were killed outright in a fire and series of explosions early today at one of the main plants of the Briggs Manufacturing Company, automobile body firm was conjectured this afternoon as firemen attempted to search the smoldering ruins of the four-story building.

An estimate of Charles T. Earl, a deputy coroner, that the dead probably will run between 20 and 40 was discounted by J. W. Carter, superintendent of the service department of the company who declared a check of the employment department of the company records showed only three men missing.

By The Associated Press.
Detroit, Mich., April 22.—At least a score of men are believed to have been killed and 50 or more others burned and injured, some probably fatally, in a fire that swept the main building of the Briggs Manufacturing Company plant after an explosion in the paint shop this morning.

Ambulances took a dozen or more loads of injured to various hospitals. A receiving hospital, where 25 injured were brought, Dr. Thomas K. Gruber, superintendent, said that probably two-thirds of them would die.

The dead were believed to be buried under the wreckage of the building. More than an hour after the explosion search still was being made for victims.

A strong wind and the fact that the plant contained large quantities of paints and varnishes, used in automobile body finishing, hampered efforts at rescue work.

More than 2,000 persons were at work in the building at the time of the explosion.

Many of the injured were treated in the plant's first-aid station, but this had to be abandoned when the flames spread to that part of the building.

Most of the injured were victims of the heavy smoke and fumes that spread throughout the building soon after the explosion.

As the fire continued more than an hour and a half after the explosions, occupants of nearby houses and stores were directed to vacate immediately. It being apparent the walls of the plant would collapse, police lines were established about 900 feet around the plant.

At 10:20 o'clock the walls of the Harper side of the building collapsed and the fire spread to the opposite side of the street. Residents of the house and shops there began to vacate the buildings.

The cause of the explosion was not immediately determined, but a workman expressed the belief a short circuit motor was responsible.

Floyd King, 29, working on the third floor of the building, who escaped with slight burns, said "it was like standing in the mouth of a cannon while it was being exploded."

AGED WOMAN DIED AT HOME DAUGHTER HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

Mrs. Julia Stombaugh, aged 88 years, died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. F. R. Wimberly, 811 West Eleventh avenue, Friday night at 10:30 o'clock following a long illness. The funeral services were conducted at the Wimberly residence Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by Rev. J. Howard Williams, pastor of the First Baptist church, and Rev. M. A. Turner, pastor of the Eleventh Avenue Methodist church. The body was forwarded to Hannibal, Mo., on the 4:25 northbound H. & T. C. passenger train for interment.

ADDITIONAL TOWNS BEING OVERRUN BY HIGH FLOOD WATERS

By Associated Press.
Memphis, Tenn., April 25.—Following somewhat freakish courses, flood waters from the Mississippi and its tributaries overrun more towns today in both Mississippi and Arkansas rendering additional thousands homeless and adding to the already staggering total of property damage.

Occasional reports of deaths filtered through from the vast inundated territory but careful checks of the list placed the known dead at only a little more than 100 with an estimated death total of approximately 300.

Indianola, Miss., and Arkansas City, and Marked Tree, Ark., were the latest towns to be visited by the flood waters. Their combined population is about 6,000 but each had a large quota of refugees and the encroachment of the flood waters has created a serious situation for the relief authorities.

The Mississippi town, which is about 25 miles east of Greenville, was overrun with flood waters from the levee at Stops Landing.

This flood water is moving on to Vicksburg at a rapid rate, the engineers reporting today that it was approaching Rolling Fork, 42 miles south of Greenville. A number of plantations and villages were flooded overnight but it was assumed that the inhabitants had heeded the urgent warning sent yesterday by officials to flee to the levees.

Under five feet of water early today, Arkansas City, Ark., 25 miles north of Greenville, became isolated. Five hundred persons were homeless there and appeals for immediate relief were sent to Governor McRae of Arkansas before communication lines went down.

This flood water came from the Pontchartrain break on the Arkansas river. Reports today to the Mississippi Levee Board said there had been another break in the levee and should these prove correct, the situation in and around Arkansas City would be aggravated.

Waters from the Big Lake district were descending upon Marked Tree, but little alarm was felt there.

Break South New Orleans.
South of New Orleans, a vast territory was being flooded by waters rushing through a break in the levee at Junior Plantation, caused by the dyke being swept by running the dyke. Evacuation of the dyke, 30 square miles was under way.

Breakwaters in Northern Louisiana also were spreading, forcing many of the inhabitants to high ground or nearby cities and towns which were threatened.

Levees along the Mississippi were holding well today except that weak spot around Helena, Ark., and above Vicksburg.

Large forces of men at work strengthened them and the engineers were hopeful that they would hold.

Relief Work to Be Extended.
While these reports of new and potential disasters were coming to engineers' offices here, rapid action were taken for extending the relief work throughout the more than 9,000 square miles of flooded territory.

Arriving here from Washington as the personal representative of President Coolidge, Secretary Hoover and Major General Jadin, chief of army engineers, went into conference with Henry M. Baker, director of Red Cross flood relief, to outline a program of relief. Later the Commerce Secretary, General Jadin and James L. Fleaser, acting national chairman of the Red Cross, left for Vicksburg to make a personal survey of the situation in that area.

"For two years I was in very poor health. Some of the time I was at most past going. I was very weak and run-down. I tried to make the most of what little strength I had by taking frequent rests, but I could find nothing which would start me on the road to health again, until one day I decided to try Cardui.

NELLIE T. ROSS WILLING TO SEE CATHOLIC ELECTED

By Associated Press.
Washington, April 25.—Nellie Tayloe Ross, former governor of Wyoming, declared today that although she is a Protestant, she would like to see a Catholic elected president "just to prove that this is, in reality, a republic in which we live and not in name only."

Speaking before the National Women's Democratic Club, Mrs. Ross denounced as unworthy of the "precious heritage of American citizenship by declaration by policy or practice, that prejudice rather than liberal principles shall prevail in this government," and called upon women of the Democratic party to back her up in this stand.

She said she was not referring to any particular potential presidential candidate, "but speaking only of the principle" involved and added that the issue was one "that cannot be dodged or evaded."

"There are many factors to be taken into consideration in the nomination of a president," she continued, "I do, though, insist that one factor that cannot be taken into consideration is church alignment."

"I believe that the sin of intolerance is the greatest sin of the age. It is amazing that those who call themselves Christians can harbor and encourage in others a sentiment so inconsistent with the teachings of Christ."

"It looks now as if a leading issue that is going to face us Democrats this coming year is whether or not a Catholic can be nominated to the presidency by the Democratic party. It is an issue that can not be dodged or evaded. Disrespectful as it is to us all, it is well to have it brought out into the open."

"Whatever may be our religious creed, this is an issue that challenges our Democracy. To many it will be and is an acid test."

"I hope that the Democrat women of this country will not be found wanting, but that they will fearlessly proclaim, individually and from every political assembly where they may be gathered, that they will sanction no policy that deprives any person in the United States of the full rights and privileges of citizenship because of religious affiliation."

Prominent Baptist Speaks Against Smith.
By Associated Press.
Richmond, Va., April 25.—Declaring that Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York had failed to answer the religious question put to him by Charles Marshall and that he had done nothing but "to avow his faith and to vouch his record," Dr. George W. McDaniel, president of the Southern Baptist Convention, said in a sermon here yesterday, that "millions of God-fearing Democrats" would not remain quiescent if Smith is being mentioned as that standard bearer of the party.

Mr. McDaniel said the governor's reply to the open letter of Mr. Marshall addressed to him in a recent issue of the Atlantic Monthly "emphasized what his correspondent conceded and ignored the matter about which his correspondent inquired."

WYOMING SHERIFF AND ALLEGED AUTO THIEF ARE DEAD

By Associated Press.
Laramie, Wyo., April 22.—Sheriff Charles M. Cosby of this (Albany) county, and Frank Bray, suspected automobile thief of Denver, were dead today after a shooting affray in a lonely draw in the hills three miles northeast of Laramie.

Quick shooting by Bray ended the sheriff's life and well-aimed shots by a deputy, Robert Welliver, fatally wounded Bray as he sought to kill Welliver. Bray died at midnight at a Laramie hospital.

Informed yesterday that a man was dismantling two motor cars in the hills, Sheriff Cosby, who left New York and Denver newspapers to become a Wyoming homesteader, and his deputy, drove along a little used trail. They found Bray working on one of the cars. He made no show of resistance.

As Welliver stooped over an engine block to obtain its number, he heard a succession of shots. He spun around and found Cosby and Bray grappling. The sheriff fell and a moment later Bray crumpled up, wounded in the abdomen by a shot from Welliver's pistol.

Raising himself on his elbow, Bray pointed his gun at Welliver, but another shot from the latter's revolver penetrated Bray's body.

DEATH LIST FROM GREATEST FLOOD IN 100 YEARS GROWS

By Associated Press.
Memphis, Tenn., April 22.—Sunshine came into the lives of the refugees atop levees and in concentration camps that dot the Mississippi Valley today as the flood waters moved slowly southward.

Hickman, Ky., temporary home of several thousand homeless, reported today that it had "sand bagged" the Mississippi river into submission at Reel Foot levee, after an all night fight in a 25-mile wind that washed waves over the top of the levee. Unless the levee breaks at some unexpected place, the bulwark will hold, the workers said.

Livestock driven from the countryside ran wild through the streets today. The cities were without mail service. Communication was made by telephone and telegraph, but officials feared they might be hampered before the day passed.

More than a thousand persons left the cities last night on the last trains to run over the Yazoo Mississippi Valley railroads. Others prepared today to leave as soon as transportation can be provided. The loss of life was placed at 28, but it was impossible to accurately estimate the probable loss in the hundreds of square miles of inundated territory from which no word has come.

Cold weather made last night a disagreeable one for the refugees, especially in Arkansas, where disease has broken out in a number of places.

Nearly every major stream in Arkansas was rising as they spread out through crevasses or moved on toward the Mississippi.

By Associated Press.

Memphis, Tenn., April 22.—The greatest disaster to the lower Mississippi valley in more than a hundred years was growing more grave today with almost hourly reports of further widespread death, desolation and destruction caused by the furious tide of the Mississippi and its tributaries.

The number of known dead has been placed at 28, and belief was that the toll will grow much greater, property damage was estimated high into the millions, and more than a hundred thousand were homeless and suffering for want of food, clothing and shelter.

The most serious condition continued to center around practically the entire state of Arkansas, particularly the St. Francis valley and the Mississippi Delta.

Hickman, Ky., where thousands of refugees were being cared for as the result of breaks in levees above them and at the river at New Madrid, Mo., today was barely able to hold the coursing current in its bed. Hickman lies at a bend in the river, and the dike there is called upon to withstand the deluge and turn it westward.

A break in Hickman would mean disaster for the Reel Foot section of Tennessee. Hundreds of workmen were battling to hold the levee.

Mississippi Delta Threatened.
The Mississippi delta section struggled against long odds as waters spread over 3,000 square miles. Thousands have been forced to flee from their homes; many are marooned, hungry, cold and destitute. Mississippi's governor has requested federal troops to aid in rescue and relief work.

Suffering among the refugees was increasing with bitter weather adding to the horror of mud and disease. Epidemics of mumps, measles and whooping cough were spreading with little medical aid available.

Greenville, Miss., threatened by a break in Stopp Landing levee, several miles above it, was apparently fighting a losing battle against the torrent sweeping down through eight counties. Workmen have been ordered off the city levee and engineers declared that the city will be flooded to a depth of several feet at last some time today.

Levees Weakening.
The doomed levee at Albermarle bend, south of Greenville, was weakening and water flowed over the top into the lowlands. An urban population of more than 20,000 was directly in the path of the weakening levee at Greenville.

There was one bright thought throughout the valley today. Fair weather was forecast in every state abutting the river.

Ouchita river, on its second rise of the year, has inundated 800 square miles of Texas and Arkansas soil. More than 1,000 persons are marooned in Jefferson county, Arkansas alone from waters flowing through gaps in the Arkansas levee. More than 1,000 persons are marooned in Jefferson county, Arkansas alone from waters flowing through gaps in the Arkansas levee. Rescue work is slow, due to high winds, and many of the refugees are standing out in the open, targets for the chilling blasts.

Fort Smith Stricken.

Fort Smith, cut off from wire communication to the East last night, was believed to be suffering from an increasingly dangerous situation. Score of other smaller towns and cities in that section also were cut off, and from them many reports of suffering were heard.

In the St. Francis basin spurred by the waters from the New Madrid, Mo., gap in the levee, residents fled in the face of the inevitable deluge which is slowly creeping Southward. There is no outlet for this flood until the water has covered an area of more than a hundred miles long and many miles wide. It will probably find the Mississippi again from the St. Francis into which it will flow near Helena.

Across the Mississippi where the Arkansas tributaries are piling great heaps of water onto the levees in the Mississippi Delta, there are probably 200,000 persons viewing with alarm the ever-increasing danger.

Relief Boats Sent.

A relief train bearing eighteen boats and eighteen men to operate them was speeding southward from St. Louis toward Arkansas. The boats were to be launched, it was planned, when the train should be stopped by the high waters.

Unconfirmed reports from Knoxville, Ark., said that 18 refugees drowned there when a boat was drawn through the crevasse in the levee at that point.

Pettyville, Ark., was literally wiped from the map when the flood tore buildings from foundations and swept them away.

At Little Rock hundreds of families were in danger and relief work was being pressed forward. Memphis had converted a large fair grounds into a refugee camp.

Governors of Mississippi valley states and mayors of towns affected have issued urgent appeals for aid in caring for the victims.

Red River Bridges Guarded Friday

Texarkana, Texas, April 22.—Emergency crews of hundreds of workmen were being maintained today at three railroad bridges near Texarkana as a precautionary measure against the high waters and heavy drift threatening to sweep the structures into the raging Red river.

Section gangs were stationed at the Kansas City Southern bridge at Index, the Missouri Pacific bridge at Fulton, Ark., and the Cotton Belt bridge at Garland City, Ark.

The river is still rising at these points, an increase of nine inches overnight being reported at Garland City. Water has broken through the small levee at Garland City and is covering more than a hundred acres between it and the main levee.

Between 90,000 and 100,000 acres of land are reported under water in Northeast Texas and Southwest Arkansas, and 5,000 people are refugees in flooded areas in what is considered the worst flood in the section's history.

Barns, tenant houses and furniture were being washed away today and swept downstream.

AUTOMOBILE TURNS OVER IN DITCH ON ROAD NORTH CITY

An automobile driven by Jim Dooley of Dallas, en route to Corsicana, turned over on the road north of this city when the car went into a ditch. Although the car turned completely over catching Mr. Dooley under it he was able to escape uninjured. The slippery condition of the roads is said to have caused the accident.

Mr. Dooley is a representative of the American Can Company and was en route to this city to install some new machinery in the plant of the Lyman's Pure Food Products Company.

PASSED THROUGH FLOODED
DISTRICT EN ROUTE TO CORSICANA

Hon. Luther A. Johnson, representative from the Sixth Congressional District, has arrived in Corsicana and will remain in this city for the remainder of the summer. Mrs. Johnson and daughter, Turner Read, will remain in Washington until school is closed. Luther, Jr., is attending the Virginia Military Institute.

Returning to Texas, Mr. Johnson came through the flooded area and his train arrived in Dallas fifteen hours late. "Conditions in this section can't be realized," Mr. Johnson said, "unless one sees the disaster that has already been wrought. Many refugees with their small household effects were seen in box cars, houses were floating in the water, and sometimes as much as eighty-five per cent of one county is under water. In the flooded area prospects for crops seem to be gone. Water was running over the railroad tracks in places and two of the railbridges went out shortly after my train crossed them."

"The situation is so grave unless help is rendered at once the suffering will be difficult to estimate. If the American people knew conditions existing there the response both immediate and generous," Mr. Johnson said.

Mr. Johnson stated that so far he had missed all of the prohibition debates which seem to be gaining in popularity and that he went through the entire session of Congress without having a single fight, which is an excellent record in itself.

COURT OF APPEALS UPHOLDS DECISION OF DISTRICT COURT

CASE OF L. A. PINKSTON,
ET AL, VS. NAVARRO COUN-TY, ET AL, AFFIRMED

According to information received here Monday, the Court of Civil Appeals in Dallas Saturday affirmed the appealed case of L. A. Pinkston et al vs. Navarro county et al, injunction proceedings, brought in the Thirtieth Judicial District Court late in 1926, seeking to restrain and enjoin Tax Collector George W. Boyd from collecting taxes for the maintenance of roads in Navarro county, attacking the locality of the 10-cent per $100 valuation maintenance tax in road district No. 1 voted a number of years ago and also attacking the validity of the 10-cent maintenance tax voted over the entire county two or three years ago. In the ruling handed down by District Judge Hawkins Scarborough, the county wide maintenance tax was held to be valid while the Precinct No. 1 10-cent maintenance tax was held void and unconstitutional. The decision of the Dallas higher court sustained the ruling handed down by Judge Hawkins Scarborough.

Due to the lateness of the time and the impossibility of the Tax Collector's office being able to change the tax receipts after the ruling, an agreement was effected between the litigants to allow the tax collector to collect taxes as had been made out but with the provision that the amount involved was to be held in escrow in the depository pending the final settlement of the litigation.

This is thought to be a landmark case and considerable interest has been caused, both among the tax payers who are interested in the case due to the taxes involved and the members of the Navarro county bar as well as other lawyers of the State are watching the case due to the legal points involved.

The case in all probability will be taken to the Supreme Court of Texas as a "test" case. The case is being watched by scores of counties of Texas who have maintained taxes within the districts of their counties that will be directly affected by the ruling that will be handed down by the Supreme Court of Texas.

ROAD CONDITIONS IN NAVARRO COUNTY STILL EXTREMELY BAD

MOST OF HIGHWAYS, HOWEVER, PASSABLE FOR LIGHT TRAFFIC, STATED

Roads in Navarro county were heavy but generally passable, according to a check of the highways made by the road bureau of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce. Information about roads over the State was obtained by the bureau from the Dallas Chamber of Commerce.

Travel to Dawson was inadvisable Monday, because of the extreme heaviness, but some light traffic was going through. Travel to Blooming Grove by Barry was inadvisable and cars were being sent by Embouse and Over Creek. The road from Frost to Blooming Grove was reported in good shape but found the road heavy and slippery. Traffic was also going to Fort Worth with little difficulty. Kerens and Powell reported the roads passable but heavy in places. Water is still over the tramway at Kerens. Travel to Athens and Palestine by Ennis and Red Bank was going through but roads were very muddy. The road to Dallas through the Palmer bottom was reported passable.

Roads were reported open to Oklahoma through Dallas for the first time in several days. All roads east to Shreveport were reported under water.

Nests Of Mail Boxes Are Unsightly; Postal Chiefs Urge Change

NEST OF RURAL MAIL BOXES DESIGNED TO RE-PLACEMENT OF GROUPS OF STRAGGLING FAMILY BOXES.

By Associated Press.
Washington, April 26.—Unsightly nests of private letter boxes, at the end of carriers' routes in cities and towns, and at cross roads in the country have jarred the aesthetic taste of Postmaster General New and his associates.

Assistant Postmasters General Bartlett and Billany have appealed to postmasters and rural carriers to help bring about some improvement.

"Where this condition exists," Bartlett wrote to the postmasters, "we suggest that you use your personal influence to get the owners of these boxes, or public improvement agencies if necessary to collect the boxes into one group in such a way as to present a neat and tidy appearance. Most of those we have seen have been extremely unsightly and in a certain sense seem to reflect upon the postal service, although we do not erect these boxes officially." Construction of a narrow wooden stand, 3 1/2 or 4 feet high firmly fastened in the ground, on which the boxes may be placed side by side in orderly fashion, is suggested. One postmaster and a carpenter went out voluntarily and did such a neat job along that line that the department heads have authorized others to do likewise. While the department does not make any expenditures for such work, postmasters doing it will receive recognition in the Postal Bulletin, their official publication.

Sharp Contrasts In Data Assembled For Farm Price History

By Associated Press.

Washington, April 25.—Who remembers the day when a farmer could make a box of matches last a year, but could get only four cents a dozen for eggs

Government statisticians have run across these as well as a host of other interesting figures for inclusion in the first comprehensive history of farm prices in the United States.

Letters from old-timers on the farm today who remember what their fathers and grandfathers got and paid for this and that article; account books of hundreds of country general stores showing how produce was exchanged for general merchandise; tobacco-stained price indices a century old—all are figuring in the unique undertaking.

Its purpose, one official explained, is to provide basic material for various economic studies.

"Everyone is trying to forecast the future," he said. "Big industrial corporations have experts continually at work figuring out the supply of raw materials and the demand for the finished product. The farmer is not a technician, so the Department of Agriculture, extension workers and agricultural colleges are collaborating in this work with a view to uncovering data which may aid him better to adjust his supply to the demand."

Although they have been at their task more than a year, the experts have yet to complete a price history of a single state. They expect, however, to finish a tabulation of Maryland prices, beginning with 1850, within a few months, and have begun work on Virginia, South Dakota and Illinois.

Prices discovered so far, if effective today, would place family budgets probably 75 per cent or more, although some articles scarce at the time, were much higher than they are today. In a letter typical of many others received a Salem, Va., farmer wrote that 75 years ago his father bought 150 acres of land for $2,500 and "everybody thought he was crazy for paying so much." Two years ago, he said, the land would have brought $15,000.

Farm hands got from 25 to 50 cents a day for working from daylight to dark, or from $6.75 to $13.50 a month. Farm wages with out board on April 1, 1927, were $18.47 a month.

While the fathers sold many thousands of eggs at 6 cents a dozen and large extra fine frying chickens at from 10 to 15 cents apiece, the son had paid as high as 90 cents for eggs and $1.80 for chickens "no better."

Dressed hogs sold for $3.50 to $4.50 a hundred pounds, shoes were made by hand for 50 cents a pair, and 80 bushels of "finest Irish potatoes" netted the grower, clear of freight, drayage and commissions, only $3.10, or slightly more than 10 cents a bushel.

In 1790 a country store operator sold 31 items to one man over a period of three months. Twenty-seven were rum, 45 gallons being bought for 15 cents a gallon.

Other items:
1834—A 74-year-old slave sold for $1; a two-year-old boy brought $50, and a nine-year-old girl $1,000.
1845—Butter sold for 5 cents a pound; eggs 4 cents a dozen. Fifty-three years later butter rose to 8 cents.

1851—Potatoes 20 cents a bushel. They averaged a dollar in 1925.

1843—One hundred and twenty-four pounds of "beef with neck" sold for 2 cents a pound.

1894—Wheat 47 cents a bushel. It is now around $1.45.
1822—Half gallon of whisky 25 cents. Comparative figures are not available.

AGREEMENT SIGNED FOR SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION HERE

All doubt that Corsicana would entertain the State Baptist Sunday School convention next year has been removed by the visit to this city of G. S. Hopkins of Dallas, secretary of the Baptist State Sunday School Board, Friday, when an agreement was signed by local Baptist church officials and the Chamber of Commerce to provide certain features.

Mr. Hopkins looked over the proposed convention meeting place as well as places of meeting for the different departments and expressed his satisfaction with all details. He also visited the hotels and was satisfied that Corsicana could entertain the convention in a most pleasing and perfect way.

Among the agreements reached was that the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce would furnish 10,000 letter heads for the convention committees, with data about the city thereon. Other arrangements were made that assures the bringing of the big body of Baptist workers here on April 17, 18 and 19, 1928.

E. convention at Fort Worth June 8-12 commanded the attention.

CHICAGO WOMAN FOUND BE BUILT ON WRONG LINES

By Associated Press.

Chicago, April 25.—What doctors describe as an amazing case of transposed organs has been found at Michael Reese hospital where Mrs. Anna Retzlaff, 36 years old, is recovering from an operation. Dr. Emanuel Friend believes her case one of the strangest in medical history.

The woman's internal organs all are on the opposite side from normal, Dr. Friend said.

Her heart is on the right side, and her appendix is on the left," he said. "Even her liver and gall bladder are in reversed positions. Yet her health has not been affected, and she was unaware of the condition until brought to the hospital."

The quota for this district is 75 registrations and 35 have been reported to date.

The next Council meeting will be held at Waco May 21. Further information can be obtained by calling Dr. C. E. McStravick, who attended this meeting, and is Pastor Counselor for the district.

Hints for FARM and HOME by THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

By Associated Press.

Farm accounts are necessary in analyzing and reorganizing the farm business along profitable lines.

Low farm profits may result as well from poor judgment in selling as from poor judgment in growing the crop.

It is unsafe to crib corn containing more than 25 per cent of moisture without providing special but simple devices for drying it.

A hog will find shade in hot weather if he can, but if the shady place he discovers is also hot he does not seem to realize it and will stay there and die from overheating. It is best, therefore, to close any buildings that are not cool.

Farmers who have marshy places on their land that they contemplate draining should first consider the possibilities of these low spots as places for producing muskrats, growing fish or attracting water fowl.

Do not use soda in making cream of tomato soup. It changes the flavor and effects the vitamin content.

The amount of sugar consumed annually in the United States has increased by nearly 6,000,000,000 pounds since 1909.

A new hog cholera poster in red and black and typifying a hog lot scene of swine in various stages of cholera has been issued. Its purpose is to urge farmers to immunize their pigs with serum.

Milk should be kept at or below 50 degrees F.

Fifth and carelessness are chief causes of calf diseases. Cleanliness is necessary in feed, pen, bedding and stalls or other utensils.

A pinch of curry powder is sometimes liked with lima beans.

Outs exports from the United States this season have been more than six times as heavy as last year.

Kankakee, Ill., April 25.—Fire on the prairies, the scourge which once the western farmer feared, today is the token of victory against his greatest foe—the European corn borer.

Daily throughout the fields of Kankakee county an oil burner is spraying with liquid fire, the dried stalks in the cornfields, laying a barrier along the Indiana line, past which, agricultural experts believe, the corn borer will be unable to pass.

The fire, searing the stalks, brings death to the borers which infest them, and further precautionary measures are in progress to keep the foreign pest from invading the great belt across Illinois, Iowa and Nebraska, where most of the nation's corn is raised.

No other effective weapon has been found to halt the borer's march into the corn belt from Canada across Southern Michigan, Northwestern Ohio and Indiana.

The burner operates from a tank where crude oil is stored under a pressure of thousands of pounds. It shoots out burning oil like a blow torch spouts flame, and all life is snuffed out in its path.

Just a few months ago a single specimen of the corn borer, smaller than the tip of a man's little finger, was found in Kankakee county. It is the only one yet found in Illinois, but its discovery aroused farmers of the state.

Governor Len Small of Illinois, large holder of farm land near Kankakee, witnessed the opening of the fight with fire.

The burner belongs to the federal government, which has made it available to state departments of agriculture.

States is more than a billion dollars a year! Two hours of every day work on the farm or in the garden and orchard goes to feed these uninvited guests.

Missouri Experts Measure Hides Of Living Cattle With New Device

Above—A PRIZE BOSS'S HIDE IS MEASURED WITH THE SURFACE INTEGRATOR BY ERWIN C. ELTING, DAIRY CHEMIST.

Below—THE SURFACE INTEGRATOR.

By Associated Press.

Columbia, Mo., April 26.—The area of a dairy cow's hide is directly proportional to the animal's weight, dairy husbandry experts at the University of Missouri have discovered.

Sumner Brody, dairy chemist, and Erwin C. Elting, instructor in dairy husbandry, have invented a "surface integrator" to measure the surface area of living animals.

The need for the device is twofold. It enables measurement of hides before the animals are slaughtered and without stretching the skinned hide for difficult direct measurement; and it enables students of dairy husbandry to find the relation between growth of cattle in surface area and growth in weight.

The measuring device is a revolving metal cylinder attached to a revolving counter. This is passed over the surface of the animal, the number of revolutions is multiplied by the distance around the cylinder, and the result is the surface area of the cow.

The experimenters are working with Jersey, Holstein, Guernsey and Ayrshire breeds to find to what extent observations on dairy cattle as a class are true of individual breeds.

In using the device, Elting explains, the medium lines of the animal, both dorsal and ventral, are marked with colored crayon. Then the roller is passed backward over the animal's body, a colored crayon attached to it marking the path of the inside edge.

Pure bred cattle are particularly suitable for determining relation between area and weight because good dairy cattle have little tendency to fatten.

In testing the experiment the hides of animals measured with the integrator were surveyed after slaughtering by the old methods, and the results were the same.

OVERFLOWING CROWD GREET'S MINISTER AT REVIVAL SERVICES

PREPARATIONS BEING MADE
CARE FOR ALL WHO WISH
TO HEAR DR. TRUETT

Overflowing crowds marked the beginning of the second week of the revival at the First Baptist church Sunday morning and night
in spite of the inclement weather.
Rev. J. Howard Williams, pastor of the church, preached at the morning hour and Dr. George W.
Truett preached at the evening
hour. There were around 1400
people present at the Sunday night
service, with every available seat
filled and chairs used everywhere possible.

It was announced that a loud
speaker would be placed in the basement of the church and commodations for about 500 more would be made there. It was thought that the loud speaker
would be installed by Monday night.

Rev. Mr. Williams announced that Dr. Truett would preach both morning and night through Friday.
The morning services were announced from 10 to 10:55 each morning.

Mrs. J. K. Wood rendered a violin solo for the offertory with Mrs. Paul B. Harper at the organ.
Playing "Lead Kindly Light." Special numbers were rendered by the choir under the direction of Paul B. Harper. Mrs. E. P. Zinke sang
the "City Four Square" in a very pleasing way.

Prefacing his remarks of the evening, Dr. Truett said that there were always two emotions that filled
his mind during a revival, the first a feeling of gratitude to God
for the many blessings of life, and the second anxiety for the unsaved.
He took for his text "Who so
confesseth and forsaketh his sins,
shall have mercy."

Parts of Dr. Truett's sermon follow:

"The question of all questions is how may a life stained by sin become reconciled with God? We must all render a personal account
of our lives to Him in the judgment. The purpose of all preachers should be to make clear
the way to Jesus for the unsaved.
The three hardest words for us
to say as they ought to be said are
'I have sinned.' Confession is a fundamental of salvation. Are we consciously wrong with Him? Have we been forgiven by Him? These questions should be settled before all others. It is hard for us to decide these things because we do not know God as a person, one who is just as real to us as our mother or our father. We frequently forget everything to turn our efforts to accumulating wealth.

"There are two principal reasons
why we are often deceived
about our real condition. The first is our ignorance of our own hearts, the most deceptive of our organs. But think what a risk we run when we are guilty of ingratitude to our God? And also when we are disobedient. Another reason we are often deceived is that we are ignorant of God's word.
The Bible tells us 'That there is no difference, all have sinned and come short of the glory of God.'
We must take our true place and confess that we have done wrong.

"There are two ways of confessing our wrongs. The wrong way
is to confess them and not repent.
as Pharaoh. The way that men take of repenting when they are in difficulties and then when the pressure of circumstances is lightened, they forget their pledges to God.

"The right way to confess our wrongs is shown in the parable of the prodigal son. The first step is to realize our exact condition, then
repent and show our penitence;
determine to do the right things,
and then prove our intentions by living the kind of a life that we should live."

There were three additions to the church at the evening service
and two recommitments.

WORLD PREMIER OF
MILITARY PICTURE
IN SAN ANTONIO

By Associated Press.

San Antonio, Texas, April 25.—
The biggest local social event from a military point of view, will be the world premiere here next month
of the motion picture "Wings,"
which was made with the help of the second division stationed here.
Assistant Secretary of War, Ham-
ford McNider, general Mason Patrick, Chief of the Air Corps, Governor Dan Moody and all of the local high officials of the army stationed
here will attend, if possible.

The picture will be brought here
for its world premiere and the proceeds will be turned over to the Second Division Memorial Association in recognition of the aid which
the army furnished in making the film. So far as is known it will be the first time that a big production has been introduced to the public outside of Washington or New York.

The high army officials who will attend will be here for the joint
army and air corps maneuvers scheduled for May. No date for the premiere has been set yet.

TEXAS INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT WEEK USHERED IN TODAY

BLOWING OF SIRENS AND STEAM WHISTLES MARKS
STARTING OF EVENT

At high noon today Texas Industrial Development Week opened with the blowing of sirens and steam whistles on the locomotives
and steamships of over 150 railway and steamship lines, and those of some four thousand Texas industries, thus ushering in Texas Industrial Development Week that is being observed in all parts of Texas for the week of April 25-30.

Texas is announcing to the world that it is now manufacturing products to the value of over one billion dollars annually, and that she is learning the lesson of economic prosperity by converting
her raw materials into the finished manufactured products, there-
by creating a well-balanced commercial structure.

"What Texas Makes Makes Texas" is the slogan for the week.
The bulk of the products of the manufacturing industries of Texas must be consumed within the State and the Southwest, as the Northern and Eastern States purchase only a few commodities from us. We have been sending our raw materials to the Eastern manufacturing centers and buying them
back in the manufactured articles.
This has been the easy way in the past, but we have come to realize that Texas is growing in population at about 100,000 each year
and that we are the fastest growing State in the South. These people are not coming to Texas
from the great industrial centers
of the Nation. The farm population of the United States during the last five years has decreased
by nearly three million people and still there is an over-production of farm products. We have had an overproduction in Texas in some lines of agriculture. It seems that our farms are not able to absorb
this annual increase in our population. The people have settled in our towns and cities and other hundreds of thousands are on their way to Texas for their future
homes. The answer to this economic problem is in the expansion of our existing Texas industries
and the establishing of new industries in order to provide our people with steady employment. One of the best ways to stimulate the industrial development of Texas
is for its citizens to give every preference wherever possible, in
purchases to Texas made products,
not just for one week in the year,
but every day in every year; for
in so doing our industries will be able to expand and new industries

KENTUCKY CATHOLIC SAYS ATTEMPT NOMINATE SMITH DETRIMENT TO HIS CHURCH

By Associated Press.
New York, April 23.—Colonel Patrick Henry Callahan, Democratic leader of Louisville, Ky., in a statement published today charged that the procedure of the campaign to nominate Governor A. Smith as president constitutes "a direct disservice to the Catholic church and is a menace to the future political destinies of our country."

Colonel Callahan, a prominent Catholic layman, also blamed friends and supporters of Governor Smith for injecting the religious issue into the 1924 Democratic national campaign for which he said attempts were made to hold William G. McAdoo responsible.

George E. Brennan, of Chicago, Colonel Callahan said, in his statement, was the leader of an Eastern church and is a menace to the future political destinies of our country.

Colonel Callahan, a prominent Catholic layman, also blamed friends and supporters of Governor Smith for injecting the religious issue into the 1924 Democratic national campaign for which he said attempts were made to hold William G. McAdoo responsible.

LEADING DEMOCRATS WILL ASK SMITH AND M'ADOO TO STEP ASIDE, IT IS CLAIMED

By Associated Press.
New York, April 23.—The New York Times and the World, supporters of Governor Smith, say today that leaders of the Democratic party have seriously discussed circulation of a round robin among leaders of the party calling upon both Smith and William G. McAdoo to withdraw as candidates for the presidential nomination.

The Times quotes these leaders as saying withdrawals will be asked to "save their party from defeat which would be inevitable should they both remain in the race."

The movement, says the Times, originated in the South.

The World says Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, who has been in the city recently, is expected by friends to voice such a demand publicly.

George F. Milton, editor of the Chattanooga News, and in 1921 one of McAdoo's principal lieutenants, in a statement in the Times says that in a race between Smith and Coolidge "the Republicans would be certain to break into and disrupt the Solid South."

DRAINAGE CONGRESS PAYS PARTICULAR ATTENTION TO CANADIAN RIVER PROJECT

By Associated Press.
Amarillo, Texas, April 23.—Consideration of resolutions which would define the attitude of the National Drainage Congress toward the Canadian river flood control project in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico, was among the more important business before the congress annual convention which ends today.

Virtually the entire three days have been devoted to papers and discussion of the Canadian project.

The Congress is interested intensely in this Mississippi tributary work and the project plan here was partly responsible for their coming.

E. A. Russell of Chicago was elected as the new president yesterday, but the Southwest landed five officers and directors, including A. S. Stimmitt, Amarillo, third vice president; E. E. Blake, Oklahoma City, fourth vice president; Directors, Roy Miller, Corpus Christi; A. Hurley, New Mexico; and Ireland Hampton, Fort Worth.

"The legal part of the work will be finished when the Texas Legislature ratifies the pact and it will then be up to you engineers," Mr. Blake, father of the Canadian project, explained yesterday.

Mr. Russell pointed out the committee which is being appointed by Governor Moody to make a two-year tax study and report on how to re-amp the taxation situation in Texas and make it fairer.

Much discussion was devoted to the proposed legislation levied against peddlers, the retailers showing the injustice of taxation to merchants while the peddlers handled much merchandise without paying any kind of tax.

WINTRY WEATHER CAUSES SUFFERING AND SOME DAMAGE

By Associated Press.
Chicago, April 22.—Snow and cold have brought misery and property damage to a Middle West already suffering from the destruction done by storms and floods.

Flood victims in Illinois and Missouri, many of whom have been living in make-shift shelters since they were driven from their homes by rising waters, received the subzero temperatures as additional misfortune.

In the fruit belts and truck garden areas considerable damage was reported, especially in Iowa. That state was covered with snow from half an inch to five inches deep. The cherry and peach crops in the section adjacent to Panama, Ill., were severely damaged by the cold.

Killing Frost in Missouri.
By Associated Press.
Joplin, Mo., April 22.—A killing frost swept over the Ozark fruit belt last night, causing damage exceeding $2,000,000, Charles Carmichael, secretary of the Ozark Fruit Growers' Association estimated today. He said 50 per cent or more of the grape crop and 25 to 50 per cent of the strawberry crop was wiped out.

Worms and parasites in the intestines of children undermine health and so weaken their vitality that they are unable to resist the diseases so fatal to child life. The safe course is to give a few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge. It destroys and expels the worms without the slightest injury to the health or activity of the child. Price 35c. Sold by Lee Drug Company.

GOVERNMENT TAKES ACTION FOLLOWING RECENT MASSACRE

By Associated Press.
Mexico City, April 23.—The declaration that Archbishop Mora Del Rio and the other prelates expelled with him left the country rather than face trial on "grave charges" was made in an official statement issued by the government today. The statement reads: "After an interview with the principal prelates of the Mexican Episcopate, these gentlemen, facing grave charges against them based upon incontrovertible proofs and facing the alternatives of being subject to the courts or leaving the country, chose the latter, doubtless being conscious of the responsibilities they had incurred."

WORTHAM BAND GAVE STREET CONCERT IN BUSINESS SECTION

The Wortham Municipal Band, one of the best known bands in this section of the State, gave a street concert on the streets in front of the Chamber of Commerce building Thursday evening, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. Although short notice of the fact that the concert would be given was made, a large number of musically interested citizens gathered and applauded the musical numbers, which demonstrated beyond a doubt that the Wortham organization is one of the best bands in this part of Texas.

DEVELOPMENT OF "BEAR GRASS" FOR MANUFACTURE ROPE

By Associated Press.
Lubbock, Texas, April 22.—Development of a "Bear Grass" for manufacturing rope, twine, bagging, matting and basketry may do for the Southwest what the cotton gin did for the South, if experiments planned at Texas Technological College here are successful.

A family of plants consisting of ligulalis, soto, magney, "Mexican dagger grass" and yucca, yield a high grade fiber similar to jute and manila hemp. The ligulalis has been used for many years by the natives of Mexico in manufacturing rope but no machinery has been perfected to separate the fiber from the pulp on a commercial scale.

The United States is practically dependent on foreign sources for its supply of coarse fiber, and millions of dollars are spent abroad annually for jute, hemp sisal and the finished products of these fibers. The farmers of the South spend nearly $30,000,000 yearly for hemp bagging for cotton bales, while even larger sums are expended for gunny sacks, binder twine, rope and other products made from imported fibers.

In the Southwest there are millions of acres practically worthless for farming purposes, which are already growing the fiber plants in a wild state, and experts believe their yield could be vastly increased by organized attention. The problem of making these great areas commercially productive has occupied the attention of government agriculturists and others for a long time, and many persons believe that this problem will be solved by the "bear grass."

One plan which will be tested out in the laboratory and machine shops of the Texas Tech calls for mixing the ligulalis, or "bear grass," fiber with cotton fiber manufactured from low grade cotton. Another will try to make the manufacture of the grass fibers alone practicable.

One factory using the fiber from the "bear grass" of the South Plains of Texas is already operating in St. Louis and last year manufactured many car loads of rope, twine and carpet matting.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is co-operating with the Texas Tech in an effort to exploit the region of South Texas now practically worthless, and it was due to its activities that the college started the fiber experiments.
